

Night and Day

Animals which are mostly active at night are described as nocturnal.

Those animals mostly active in the daytime are known as diurnal.

However, some animals are out both at night and in the day.

Can you put these Brecon Beacons National Park animals in the correct place on the Venn diagram below?

You can either cut and stick the pictures or write the name of the animal in the right place.

